Instructions for Completing the Letter of Transmittal

1. Delivery of Letter of Transmittal and Shares; Notice of Guaranteed Delivery

To validate a tender of shares, a properly completed and signed Letter of Transmittal (or a facsimile copy), along with actual stock certificates or confirmation of book-entry transfer, must be received by the Depositary prior to the Expiration Date. Delivery to the Purchaser or Target will not qualify.

- Notice of Guaranteed Delivery: If a shareholder desires to tender shares but certificates are not immediately available, or book-entry delivery cannot clear prior to the Expiration Date, the tender may be processed using the Guaranteed Delivery Procedure.
- Eligible Guarantor Institution: A Notice of Guaranteed Delivery must be executed by an 'Eligible Guarantor Institution' (such as a commercial bank, trust company, or a broker-dealer member of a recognized Medallion Guarantee program).
- Two-Day Settlement Window: The Notice of Guaranteed Delivery must be received by the Depositary prior to the Expiration Date. The physical stock certificates or book-entry confirmation, together with this Letter of Transmittal, must then be received by the Depositary within two (2) trading days after the execution date of such Notice of Guaranteed Delivery. Failure to clear within this window voids the tender.

2. Medallion Signature Guarantees

Signatures on this Letter of Transmittal must be guaranteed by an Eligible Guarantor Institution UNLESS: (a) the Letter of Transmittal is signed by the registered holder of the shares surrendered therewith and the holder has not completed the alternative payee/address boxes under Option 1 or Option 2, or (b) the shares are tendered for the account of an Eligible Guarantor Institution.

3. Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates

If any certificate representing shares of Common Stock has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the shareholder must immediately cross-check the special checkbox on the front of this form. The shareholder must then interface directly with Dynamic Stock Transfer, Inc. to obtain an Affidavit of Loss and instructions for securing an open-penalty indemnity bond. This Letter of Transmittal cannot be processed, and no cash consideration will be wired or mailed, until the indemnity bond is fully issued, paid for, and submitted to the Depositary alongside a valid tax form.
